Our Strategies for 2017

By Meghan Dougherty, WPNA President

In January, a group of 19 committee chairs and WPNA leaders met at Hope Lutheran Church to hammer out a strategy for 2017. We challenged ourselves to confront things we needed to improve and envisioned how we want to interact with our community in 2017. In preparation for this discussion, I sent out a survey to the neighborhood in December and received over 250 responses from both members and non-members of the WPNA. We poured over the information you provided carefully and thoughtfully. After much discussion and reflection, we crafted three statements that define our key strategies for 2017:

1. Improve communication within the neighborhood to communicate our purpose
2. Empower our purpose through committee work
3. Better represent and engage with ALL of Windsor Park

The following describes the rationale behind each strategy and the steps we've taken so far this year to accomplish these:

1. Improve communication within the neighborhood to communicate our purpose

We realize that we might not be reaching as many people as we'd like, and that many people don't understand what we do. Some might feel the leadership of the WPNA has its own agenda, which might make it appear detached from the concerns of many neighbors. Therefore, we have decided to identify the key concerns and interests of our community, and focus our meetings on these concerns. We also plan to use the newsletter each month to enhance the meeting topics, including articles on the chosen theme that will help to educate our neighborhood about important issues. Our newsletter editor will be looking into ways to change the formatting and design of the newsletter to make it more reader friendly, and we will be revisiting our newsletter routes to ensure we truly are delivering the newsletter to every corner of our neighborhood. We've expanded our online presence to Facebook Groups, which is more collaborative and allows for more open discussion among neighbors. We are also making it a priority to get the minutes from each meeting out in a timely manner by posting them to our website as well as other social media. We also created the position of a social media chair who is helping us keep everything updated.

2. Empower our purpose through committee work

Most of the work we do happens through our committees, but it appeared from the survey responses that many people don't know what our committees do (or maybe that they even exist?). We are trying to advertise our committee's work more broadly through the newsletter and online. In addition, committee chairs will be making an effort to post meeting times and agendas in advance on our listserv, Nextdoor, and Facebook, so [Continued on page 2]

[Continued from page 1] community members know what’s being discussed. We plan to use our fundraising know-how to partner with businesses and the City of Austin to get funding for a variety of projects we have in the works, including beautification and safety along the Berkman corridor. We’re also creating some new committees, including our most recent - Planning and Revitalization - in order to have a targeted approach to things our neighbors would like to see us do, such as encouraging business development in the heart of our community and creating more social opportunities.

3. Better represent and engage with ALL of Windsor Park

We live in a very diverse community, yet the people who attend our meetings do not always reflect the diversity of our neighborhood. We worry that we skew towards representing homeowners, when in reality we want to be a voice for every resident of Windsor Park, whether renter or owner, whether living in an apartment or a house. We plan to organize more social events that might attract a more diverse crowd. We hope to engage with our lesser-served neighbors through schools and churches, and also find ways to communicate to people who might not be connected to our social media. We’re also going to work more on new-member development.

We hope you will help us achieve our goals in 2017. If you see that we’re not engaging with a certain group, or could do more, please let us know. If you feel our meetings are not addressing important areas of concern, feel free to contact us with some different ideas. And please consider joining one or more committees to help shape our initiatives in ways you think will help WPNA serve the larger neighborhood.

Immigration Rights and Resources

Jeanette Swenson

With the increased Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) activity in Austin, here are two resources to consult on rights and activities of immigrants. At the April 8 WPNA meeting, an immigration attorney will speak as we all struggle with the questions surrounding immigrant rights. What do we need to know? Have “Know Your Rights” (from United We Dream) available to use or share with your friends and neighbors.

April 2017 Mueller Update

Rick Krivoniak

KUTX Live is returning the spring concert series to Mueller’s Lake Park. The free, monthly music events start at 7PM, with food trucks and kid activities happening a bit earlier. A kid-friendly act kicks off the evening, followed by rock n’ roll for adult spectators. Blankets or stadium cushions are okay, but no chairs, glass containers or alcohol are permitted in the park.

- March 31: 7PM – The Hey Lolly Band; 7:45PM – Calliope Musicals
- April 7: 7PM – The Que Pastas; 7:45PM – Leopold and His Fiction
- May 12: 7PM – Yes Ma’am Brass Band; 7:45PM – TBD

See the KUTX Facebook page or kutx.org/live-events/free-family-concerts-at-mueller for more information.

The street level retail spaces in the newly-opened Alamo Drafthouse building will soon be filled. As previously reported, the creators of the Market District’s Xian Sushi & Noodle will be opening Bao’d Up, serving a classic Chinese steamed bun dish that is filled with meat and vegetables. Colleen’s Kitchen, by Mueller residents Ashley Fric and husband Sean, will be a southern-inspired, full-service restaurant catering to families by day and the entertainment/foodie scene by night. Two other recently announced businesses plan to open by summer. Barre3 is a fitness studio that delivers a low-impact workout using a program designed by doctors, physical therapists and anatomy specialists, and owner Emily Ballenger will be teaching pop-up and community free classes before the opening. Orangetheory Fitness will offer 60-minute, group personal training and interval fitness, led by skilled and qualified coaches. Co-founder and area developer Terry Blachek found the very active Mueller community an ideal location to showcase their fitness model.

In the nearby “Diamond Building,” the opening of BD Riley’s Irish Pub & Restaurant and JT Youngblood’s Texas Chicken were delayed a bit as City of Austin inspectors were busy with SXSW. Both hope to open in April. Lick Honest Ice Creams also hopes to open by April 15. Local owners Chad Palmatier & Anthony Sobotik were recently featured on “American Doers,” a PEOPLE Magazine web series. View the episode at americandoers.people.com

The E. 51st Street Mobility Project (aka “the Vision Plan”) was scheduled to be in the design phase early this year, but construction remains contingent on funding. More information and a recent project update can be seen at austintexas.gov/department/e-51st-street-mobility-project

As of this writing, two vacancies remain on the RMMAPIAC (Mueller Commission), but two other vacancies have recently been filled. Council Member Flannigan has appointed Cherrywood resident Jonathan Schwartz, who also happened to be project architect for the Alamo Drafthouse. Mayor Pro Tem Kathie Tovo has appointed Mueller resident and real-estate agent Kathy Sokolic. If you have an interest in serving on any City board or commission, visit www.austintexas.gov/department/boards-and-commissions. The RMMAPIAC will next meet at 6PM, Tuesday, April 11, 2017 at Parque Zaragoza Recreation Center, 2608 Gonzales Street. Visit <https://austintexas.gov/rmmapiac> to see RMMAPIAC agendas, minutes and other documents. Address Mueller questions and comments to bc-rick.krivoniak@austintexas.gov

April 2017 Yard of the Month

Sara Jane Lee

Our April winners are Lacey and Shannon McCormick of 1500 Northridge Drive. They have lived in Windsor Park since September, 2001 and in their house since May 2007. They began working on their yard then.

Their house is on the corner of Northridge and Belfast with flower beds in the front and on the side. The basic design was there when the McCormicks moved in, but Lacey designed the small bed on the Belfast side of the house. In the front yard they inherited two Red Oaks, a Pecan tree, and some Crape Myrtles. The last have beautiful trunks.

Since Lacey works at the Lady Bird National Wildlife Center, they plant only drought tolerant natives that welcome bees and other pollinators. Though they have the the basic design to work with, as plants die, they replace them with more appropriate natives. They have white and pink Salvia Greggii, Texas Sage, (aka Cenizo) and Purple Heart. They also have Texas Sotol, Red Yucca, Upright Rosemary, Mexican Plum, a blue Salvia, and Wooly Butterfly Bush. I presume that their many Iris plants are various colors; the only one that I saw blooming was yellow. Lacey has many plans in that popular variety, “I knew what it was when planted it.”

As you might assume, Lacey recommends using native plants. They do hire someone to do the mowing and weeding. This way she and Shannon do not have to spend hours working in the yard. Instead they get to watch their two children play in the grassy areas. She also recommends checking out the National Wildlife Federation's Certified Wildlife Habitat program.

The McCormicks will receive a $50.00 gift certificate from our sponsor, Shoal Creek Nursery

Pictures of the Yard of the Month are displayed on our website, www.Windsorpark.info as well as on our Facebook page. Check them out.

Do you like a certain yard, or yards, in the neighborhood? You can nominate more than one. Tell us. We cannot visit every yard in the neighborhood every month. We may not have seen your great yard. Don't be humble. We love to get nominations. To nominate a yard or yards, e-mail us at yom@windsorpark.info, call 928-0681 or write WPNA YOMC, P O Box 16183, Austin, Texas 78761

Parks Committee Revival

Jeanette Swenson, Parks Committee Chair

There are many one-time or ongoing opportunities for Windsor Park residents to promote and support our neighborhood parks. According to Council Member Greg Casar, District 4 has the highest number of children under ten, but it also has the smallest amount of developed parkland. Programs to develop parks in underserved urban neighborhoods improve quality of life and safety. See “The Difference A Park Can Make”, <https://www.nytimes.com/2017/03/12/arts/design/chicago-philadelphia-parks-rahm-emanuel.html>?

In addition to Bartholomew District Park, we have two other potential pocket park sites to develop. Friends of Tannehill Branch Creek has adopted the Creek along Broadmoor Drive and is developing a section opposite Promise Land into a pocket park with the help of Keep Austin Beautiful. Several years ago, Parks & Recreation purchased a 1.9 acre plot at 1906 Patton Lane, but no maintenance or development plans appear to be in progress. As a neighborhood, we could begin to care for the area, officially Earl J. Pomerlau Pocket Park; think about facilities we would like on Patton Lane; and encourage Parks and Recreation to develop the park. Potentially, we could apply for development grants from Austin Parks Foundation.

At Bartholomew Park, we can raise funds to provide shade for the third play structure. The $20,500 bid from USA-Shade needs to be re-worked. The design for the third playscape is more expensive than estimated and will not provide adequate shade. There will be a proposal with 2 options at the April 8 WPNA meeting to revise the project. Meet Your Neighbor: AARON SACCO

Martin Luecke

Our neighbor on Broadmoor since 2005, Aaron is a freelance graphic artist/illustrator/ animator who came to Austin to work on a cutting-edge Richard Linklater movie called “A Scanner Darkly”. Starring Keanu Reeves, Robert Downey Jr., Woody Harrelson, Winona Ryder and based on a novel by Philip K. Dick, “Scanner” set a new bar in Hollywood for how to make a movie based on a dystopian future world. It was ground breaking stuff.

Back in 2005, I happened to park next to the house in Cherrywood where “Scanner” was being produced and saw a beehive of activity which included Aaron. “That house never stopped moving.” Aaron said working in that house in a regular Austin neighborhood made him wonder what magic was happening in every house in Austin. “There was a lot of entrepreneur spirit here.”

Back in those days Aaron and friends rented a house just a couple blocks from where he lives now. Aaron loved Windsor Park from the very beginning, using Bartholomew Park and “our little library” regularly. These days Aaron works out of his house and various coffee shops in the area. “It’s nice I don’t have to fight traffic.” Go ahead, rub it in Aaron.

Go to his website: aaronsacco.com to see a laundry list of work, from movies to television commercials to magazine covers. He had a series of Charles Schwab commercials that lots of people saw. And he is currently working on art for various children's books for Oxford University Press, as well as doing illustrations for Pepsi, Bud Light and Frito Lay ads.

His biggest project recently was the 2016 documentary film “Tower”, recently aired on PBS, about the 1966 shooting at the UT Tower that gripped the nation. Aaron was the lead animator on the project and worked for a year and a half to help create 40 minutes of animation for the feature length film. The world premier was at last year’s SXSW film festival. Much of his work was animating the re-enactment of that fateful day, telling survivor’s stories. One of those survivors, James Love, was at the screening and told Aaron that “he was so into the film that he forgot he was watching animation. That is the best compliment I ever received.” This came from one of the heroes of that terrible day, a guy who risked his life to pull a wounded pregnant women off the main mall directly in the line of fire. Quite a story for a guy who sits in coffee shops making art. I think we can all be a little jealous!

Update from CM Casar

February Homelessness Forum
Thanks to all who were able to attend our February Homelessness Forum! For more than one year, several District 4 neighbors, service providers, and other community partners have worked as a coalition to develop proactive solutions and approaches to address homelessness in our area. In February, this coalition presented their work to invite more of our neighbors to get involved and contribute to this effort. We had a great meeting thanks to our hardworking District 4 neighborhood leaders, the Austin Office of Innovation, Lanier High School, Ending Community Homelessness Coalition (ECHO), and our District 4 appointee to the Commission on Veterans Molly Mae Potter.

There is still more work to do, and our office will continue to be a partner to the D4 Homelessness Initiative to ensure our neighbors experiencing homelessness can find lasting stability and security. If you’re interested in getting involved with the D4 Homelessness Initiative, please email shmccclure@gmail.com.

Join me at the Windsor Park Library on May 2
On Tuesday, May 2nd from 6pm to 7:30pm I’ll be at the Windsor Park Library to discuss previous, current and ongoing initiatives to address housing affordability by the City, the City Council and my office. I hope to see you there!

My next set of Office Hours will be held on Friday, April 21. If you would like to set up an appointment, please email District4@austintexas.gov or call my office at 512-978-2104.

Update from CM Houston

District #1 Neighbors, I am currently attempting to find policy solutions to support and assist individuals in our city who call the streets and greenspaces of Austin home. There are many non-profits whose purpose and mission is to provide short term and long term assistance. However, there continues to be many individuals who live here who need assistance securing some of the basic services access to health care, counseling and medication for individuals with a behavioral health diagnosis or a substance use diagnosis, housing assistance or something as ordinary as a place to clean up.

Mayor Pro Tem Tovo has been working closely with Austin Police Department and the members of collation of agencies that assist individuals who are without homes. She was instrumental in getting funding for the Homelessness Outreach Street Team (HOST) program. I have been working with the Texas Department of Transportation and Austin Resource Recovery to allow receptacles to be placed on the right a way of the Transportation Department so that individuals can ‘police the area’ reducing the amount of trash and litter. Mayor Pro Tem and I are both committed to finding ways for individuals who live in Austin, our seniors, individuals with children and tourist alike to have public facilities for everyone to use. ¡HAZ UN PLAN Y PELEA!

Si inmigración detiene a un ser querido, busca un abogado de confianza, y haz planes para que alguien cuide a tus hijos. Tu puedes pelear un caso de detención y tal vez recibir una fianza. Únete a un equipo local para defenderte de la migra.

National Week of the Young Child
April 24-29, 2017

Gloria Neunaber

The Week of the Young Child™ has been an annual celebration since 1971 and is sponsored by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) to celebrate early learning, young children, their teachers and families.

Quality early childhood education is one of the best investments we can make for our children’s future. Research shows that children attending high quality early childhood programs are more likely to develop the language, pre-mathematics and social skills they need to succeed in school.

According to the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services, there are 3 licensed Extend a Care programs, one licensed child care home and 9 licensed child care centers within Windsor Park boundaries. Those 13 agencies have a capacity of serving 945 young children! There are various standards of care. Texas DFPS assures that licensed centers follow minimum standards for children. Texas Rising Star is a quality rating and improvement system for Texas early childhood programs. Programs that participate in TRS meet higher quality standards than many other child care programs. Additionally, the national highest standard of care is accreditation through NAEYC.

Mt. Sinai Christian Academy and Trinity Child Development Center are both nationally accredited and 4 star Rising Providers. Promise Land Preschool is a 2 star Rising Star Program. More information about quality can be found at <http://families.naeyc.org/>

Many agencies serving young children throughout the country will be celebrating Music Monday, Tasty Tuesday, Work Together Wednesday, Artsy Thursday, and Family Friday.

The Austin Association for the Education of Young Children will hold the closing celebration event for the Week of the Young Child on Saturday, April 29th.

All Austin families are invited to bring a picnic to Ella Wooten Park in Mueller from 12:00 pm – 2:00 pm. Free activities include games, face painting, and clown activities. Come out and have a fun time and help celebrate young children!
